Connecting with the Frederick Community

The Arc of Frederick County has been very busy bringing fun and informative programming to the people we support and to the Frederick community by partnering with other local organizations and hosting at The Arc at Market Street.

We kept the cool days of March heated up with free, inclusive salsa dancing classes with Frederick Salsa.

After such a great turnout with our first "What To Do During a Traffic Stop" safety event, we decided to collaborate again with The Frederick City Police Department and Pathfinders for Autism in order to let people experience and learn what they need to do at a routine traffic stop.

The Frederick team of Go Team Therapy Dogs joined us for some comforting cuddles, and community members were also able to enjoy some snacks, meet the officers, and check out safety resource tables for additional information.

IAFF Local 3666 of the Frederick County Division of Fire and Rescue Services gave a public education presentation and taught us fire safety tips with interactive demonstrations and activities.

Most recently, we partnered with Interfaith Housing Alliance to host a Credit Cafe to support people to better understand their credit and how that impacts future financial plans. After the session, people were able to continue receiving supportive monthly check-ins as well.

We look forward to connecting again with these great folks and forming new partnerships to continue to bring such positive and educational programming to the people we serve and our greater community.
